One of the most approved methods.

of reducing the milk to rubber in South America is by coagulation in smoke, natives of Africa frequently resort to the practice of covering their bodies with the fluid as it is taken from the tree, and after there has been sufficient evaporation the rubber residue is scraped off and molded into cubes. In the Fiji Islands the rubber workers use their mouths as retorts or separators, the rubber pellets as they form being taken in the fingers and molded into balls.

It is difficult to realize that rubber's role in modern civilization and warfare has been played only during the last six decades.

Following that happy accident when Charles Goodyear, a Connecticut inventor, dropped a mixture of sulphur and rubber on a hot stove and discovered the long-sought principle of vulcanization which prevents the gum from becoming brittle in cold weather and sticky when warm.

There is local interest in the following from the Webster Gazette:

Particular interest attaches itself to the announcement which has been received by officials of the Royal Worcester Corset Co. of the death of Mrs. Mary E. Bartlett, which occurred recently in Berlin, Mass. Mrs. Bartlett, then Miss Mary Rice, was the first girl to be employed by David Rice, present head of the company, when it was organized in May, 1861, growing from a concern to the famous corset maker.

Car Backed Down Hill.

An automobile starting several persons started up Gliss Hill Friday afternoon about 1 o'clock, and had nearly reached the top of the hill when the driver, for some reason, and the car started backwards down the hill. Far way down it turned about the trolley tracks and began to climb the bank. It stopped just over the tracks. The occupants were uninjured, but were badly frightened.

Brief Mention.

of war as gunpowder, steel, copper, dynamite or nitric acid, for the iron shed warhorse of former days has evolved into the padded-wheel motor car, motor truck and motor cycle of 1917.

It is difficult to realize that rubber's role in modern civilization and warfare has been played only during the last six decades, following that happy accident when Charles Goodyear, a Connecticut inventor, dropped a mixture of sulphur and rubber on a hot stove and discovered the long-sought principle of vulcanization which prevents the gum from becoming brittle in cold weather and sticky when warm.

There are many varieties of rubber producing trees, vines and shrubs, the most valuable species being that which yields the standard 'para' and which grows over an area of a million square miles in Brazil alone.

The world production of rubber during the year preceding the European war was 15,000 tons, the nearest competitor, the Dutch East Indies, yielding 8,000 tons. The United States in that year imported more than twice as much of the raw product as Great Britain, which stood second as buyer. For our 57,000 tons $90,000,000 was paid.

FRENCH MUSICAL PRODUCTIONS ARE TO DISPLACE GERMAN

In Theaters in Milan, Rome, Italy, and in Buenos Aires.

Paris June 15.—An arrangement has just been concluded between M. Gheusi, director of the Opera Comique and one of the leading Italian publishers and directors of the Scala theatre in Milan, the Costanzi theatre in Rome and the "Colony" of Buenos Aires, whereby French musical productions are to take the place hitherto allotted to German and Austrian productions. This will apply to the French operette and also to French librettists, who will be commissioned to write the texts for various Italian works. In this way it is hoped that the neglected French operette will come into its own again and that the Viennese productions, which have practically held supreme control for several years.

By a reciprocal arrangement, the Opera Comique will produce Italian works even more profusely than here.
